We have seen the Flag floating in front of the p

Now many of us are really seeing it for the first ti denly, it has become the most precious thing in the
in our throat and we cannot speak because we love it

Only now are we beginning to know the tremendous task bef
us. We watch dear friends depart and we know that some of th faces we shall never see again. We know the price we shall pay wrecked bodies, in silent grief and in gold stars. It makes no c ference. We are ready.

Through our long years of dream and illusion we had aim forgotten our beginnings and what it means to be free. Our herit lay neglected while we followed false prophets and feared th fears. Only yesterday we cherished ease above liberty; only yest day we felt ourselves divided on little things.

Today we stand united against the common enemy who wo destroy us all.

We know now what we never knew in the days of our illu

SAFeway Home-makers' Guide

- ★ How you can win $1000.
- ★ About vegetables and how to cook them.
- ★ Meats that are guaranteed.
- ★ How one wife made one husband happy.

Eight Secrets you may not know —and should —about vegetables

There's nothing elaborate or fanciful about the modern methods of preparing and cooking vegetables. On the contrary, the new way is much simpler — for you'll discover when you read these hints that come from the Safeway Home-makers' Bureau.

These eight suggestions will help keep all the color and flavor and garden freshness in your vegetables — and, at the same time, will help them retain all their health-building vitamins and minerals.

1. To start, always buy the freshest, finest vegetables available. The older they are, the less attractive they become, and they lose some of their vitamins, too. Buy and use greens the same day, if possible.

2. When you get your vegetables home, wash them quickly — but don't let them soak in water, or you'll wash away minerals and vitamins. Put greens in a covered container, wrap other vegetables closely in waxed paper, and store in the refrigerator until ready to use.

3. Don't pare, cut or shell fresh vegetables until just time to cook or serve, because vitamins escape once cut surfaces are exposed to air.

4. Colors — red, green, yellow and white; and flavors — mild, strong — determine just how vegetables are to be cooked. But, to retain nutritive qualities and appetite appeal in all vegetables, here's a good general rule: Cook quickly, in short time as possible, using as little water as possible, and using cooking water when it is palatable. Quick cooking means less vitamin loss, less color change. To speed the cooking, add vegetables to rapidly boiling water, and whenever possible, cook covered.

5. Green vegetables (to keep their color) and strong flavored vegetables (to modify their flavor) should be cooked uncovered, in slightly more water than other vegetables.

6. Add a little vinegar, lemon juice, or tart apple to keep the color in red vegetables (like beets and red cabbage) during or after cooking. But don't add these acids to green vegetables until just serving time, or the green will turn dingy brown. Don't add soda to preserve color in green vegetables, either, for soda kills vitamins.

7. Once vegetables are tender, serve them as soon as possible, to get full benefit in goodness as well as nutrition. Overcooking lessens attractiveness, softens vitamins and minerals, and may cause unpleasant color changes.

8. When you cook vegetables in a small amount of water, it's easy to serve the condensed cooking water with the vegetable itself. Save any leftover liquid to flavor soups and gravies — unless, of course, it is unpalatable.

More about cooking vegetables in this week's issue of Family Circle Magazine is an interesting article on the modern methods of vegetable cooking, and on nutrition in vegetables. Issued every Thursday, for at Safeway.

JUNE IS DAIRY PRODUCTS MONTH

Speaking of dairy products you ought to read this Whole milk is one of our most complete natural foods. It contains, in varying amounts, all the food elements we need. It's an excellent source of protein; the minerals, calcium and phosphorus; riboflavin and niacin (B vitamins). And it's a fair source of Thiamin (Vitamin B₁) and has some Vitamin A and D.

Cheese, made from whole milk, such as American or Cheddar, is essentially the same as whole milk, nutritionally.

Butter and Cream are most important, nutritionally, for the Vitamin A they contribute. As well as Vitamin D and protein or fat.

Dairy products at Safeway are all top quality. And not only are they delicious with nutrition, they are always low priced—every day. Guaranteed to please you completely or all your money back.

We're Sorry — but we're awfully proud too!

Our service may not be quite as fast as you've come to expect—for each day more and more Safeway men are taking the brand name. We tell you this with pride and with the hope that you'll understand. For there isn't time so casually only our people to tell the story of our continued Safeway men. But our people are all working hard to tell their story as fast as possible.

Stuffed Eggs in Tomato Jelly

Dorothy Greig

THE egg, thanks be, has a beautiful versatility. It's suitable for any meal from early breakfast around the clock, to just off-the-awning shift supper.

For instance, we use eggs here in a brightly seasoned luncheon or supper dish. The eggs are first stuffed to mustardy perfection and then set to rest in refreshing vitamin-rich tomato jelly. Result — a piquant dish that delights the palate as well as providing sustenance for the inner man.

The eggs:

- 4 eggs, hard-cooked
- 1 tablespoon salad dressing or mayonnaise
- 1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash of cayenne pepper

Cut the eggs in half crosswise. Remove the yolks and mash with a fork or put through a sieve. Then add the salad dressing, mustard and seasonings. Fill the egg whites. Place 1/2 stuffed egg, cut side down, in cup or mold and pour slightly thickened tomato gelatine over the egg. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Tomato Jelly:

- 1 can (14 oz.) tomato juice
- 1 tablespoon gelatine (softened in 1/4 cup water)
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Sprinkle the gelatine in the cold water and let stand for five minutes. Heat the tomato juice and dissolve the soaked gelatine in the hot tomato juice. Add the salt and chill until the tomato juice begins to thicken. Then pour over the stuffed eggs. Makes 6-8 (depending on size of mold or cup used).

How to Balance Wartime Meals Without Counting Vitamins, Calories

"Being well fed," cautions Dr. Helen Mitchell, Director of the Government's Wartime Nutrition Program, "is not just a matter of having enough to eat, but of having enough of the right kind of foods."

Vitamins, calories, minerals, fats—in fact over 70 different chemical substances must be in our diets every day if we are to maintain health. Obviously a busy homemaker can't keep track of all these. And fortunately, she doesn't have to.

A plan, developed under the guidance of Dr. Mitchell, has been worked out to enable the homemaker to balance her meals without counting calories, vitamins, fats, etc. The Five Star Plan, as it is known, is effective regardless of the amount of money the consumer spends for food. According to the plan, you should divide the weekly food money into five parts as follows:

1. One fifth or more for fruits and vegetables.
2. One fifth or more for milk and cheese.
3. One fifth or more for meat, eggs and fish.
4. One fifth or less for bread and cereals.
5. One fifth or less for fats, sugars and accessories.

The plan, compiled in booklet form by General Electric and made available through this paper, gives complete tables on meal planning, shopping, storage and cooking foods under the Five Star Plan. A copy of this booklet, "How To Get The Most Out Of The Food You Buy," may be obtained for 3c by sending in the coupon below.

A DRESSING for a Fresh Spring Salad

By Dorothy Greig

THIS salad making we get in the spring, fresh, always seem more sparkling fresh, greener and succulent than at any other time of year.

Young dandelion greens, washed and chilled are in their glory for salads at this time. Raw garden spinach, the new tender leaves, is another springtime favorite. So are baby scallions, and the jolly little first radishes of the season. To this list add garden cucumbers, watercress—in fact, almost anything that is tender, green and edible.

Then as a binder of flavors, pour this Tomato-French Dressing over the whole and toss your salad until each piece is delicately coated with the dressing:

Tomato-French Dressing

- 1 tablespoon dry mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup grated onion
- 1/2 cup oil (olive or salad)
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1 can condensed tomato soup

Combine the dry ingredients and mix in the grated onion. Blend in the oil and let stand for 10-15 minutes. Add vinegar and tomato soup. Beat well until the dressing mixture is thick and well blended. Makes 2 cups of dressing. This is a non-separating French dressing.

Part For Victory?

Flag and All It Stands For atched our boys and girls pledge it allegiance. We our peaceful yesterdays we have taken it for grant-

w that we may lose all it has ever stood for; sude it goes, fluttering over the khaki lines. A lump gets this last great test had to come. Long ago it was written those who would keep their freedom must ever stand ready for it, and that some day the battle must be joined. Such, or later, has been the destiny of every free people and it too much to hope that with us it could have been otherwise.

Now have come the days of grim decision. They are also days
pe. Once more the faith and idealism of our fathers are workin our hearts. Once more we march with our brothers of Bunker and Valley Forge, of Gettysburg and the Argonne.
Once more the Flag moves forward, hope of the world, light of oppressed and downtrodden everywhere, a promise to our chil-the living magic symbol of all that we once were, all that we can hope to be.
